Wolfsburg. One of the most renowned international conductors will be a guest at the Scharoun Theater in Wolfsburg on Tuesday, January 10, from 7:30 p.m. As part of the “Soli Deo Gloria” concerts sponsored by Volkswagen, Sir John Eliot Gardiner presents a special classic experience with his internationally acclaimed ensemble “English Baroque Soloists” in cooperation with the Scharoun Theater Wolfsburg.

Brite is considered one of the most innovative conductors

Conductor for more than 50 years, leader and guest conductor of some of the best orchestras in Europe and North America, founder of an internationally admired early music ensemble, ennobled by the Queen of England - and successful organic farmer: Sir John Eliot Gardiner's life can confidently be described as extraordinary will. The Briton is considered one of the most innovative and impressive conductors of our time. He always manages to interpret classic music in new and exciting ways. At the same time, he is intensively involved with early music and, with the English Baroque Soloists, founded an ensemble that many consider to be a global benchmark for historically oriented concert performances. The English King Charles III. is patron of the chamber orchestra.

On his numerous world tours, Gardiner has been acclaimed for his work with the finest symphony orchestras as well as for operatic performances. He is the recipient of two Grammys and there is no living artist who has received more Gramophone Awards than he has. Gardiner has also been a guest in Lower Saxony and, according to his own statement, has always particularly enjoyed the concerts in the region.

Gardiner is planning an almost intimate concert in Wolfsburg

In Wolfsburg, the exceptional conductor will take the stage for an almost intimate concert in the second week of January: Gardiner will perform works by Haydn and Mozart with the two soloists Isabelle Faust and Antoine Tamestit from his orchestra. The concert takes place as part of the "Soli Deo Gloria" special concerts in cooperation with the Scharoun Theater Wolfsburg and is supported by Volkswagen.
